Utah Flood Cleanup Damage Restoration Services

Our team provides full-scope commercial and residential restoration services for damaged or destroyed property at your home or business. Our property restoration services feature:

Water Damage Restoration

Flooding inside a home due to a roof leak, broken pipe, or faulty appliance can saturate structural components of your home, including drywall, studs, subflooring, carpets, hardwood flooring, floor joists, window frames, lighting, wiring, furniture, electronic devices, appliances, and many other personal property items. Our water damage restoration company processes and equipment are unsurpassed for flooding cleanup and remediation services. We eliminate all water and ruined materials, complete structural drying, and restore or replace all damaged parts of the building and its contents.

Fire Damage Restoration

A house fire can destroy or damage large areas of the structure, leave contaminated debris everywhere, and blanket virtually all personal possessions in thick soot. The entire interior and all its contents might be saturated by emergency sprinklers and/or fire hoses. All the remains of the home and contents probably have an intense and lasting odor of smoke. Utah Flood Cleanup fire damage restoration company uses the industrial tools, equipment, and professional materials necessary to clean and seal all contaminated surfaces, eliminate the most extreme smoke odors, and repair or replace all damaged structural parts and finishes.

Sewage Damage Restoration

Contaminated flood water flowing through a home can quickly leave an environment of serious health and safety hazards. Gray water backed up from sinks, showers, or washers is very unhealthy. Black water presents extreme dangers, carrying bacteria and fungal contaminants from the sewage system. Even fresh, clean water from a leaking water pipe can lead to a severe spread of water damage, mildew, and mold contamination. We provide impeccable emergency cleanup of hazardous sewage, dry the structure, and fully restore your house to its condition prior to the sewage disaster.

Mold Damage Restoration

After a fire or flood inside a home, mold can become an additional disaster of its unique kind. As mold rapidly spreads, it can quickly become difficult to abate without expert intervention. Eventually, mold can impact the construction components, threatening the structural strength and the safety and health of building occupants. Our certified mold abatement specialists use professional equipment and anti-mold chemical agents to remove all mold and use methods to prevent the re-emergence of mold infestation.
